

Sean Cavanaugh's ripoff outfit FontSite

A brief report for legal authorities by Ulrich Stiehl, Heidelberg 2008

Sean Cavanaugh (see <http://www.fontsite.com/about>) who lives in San Diego (USA) and runs the ripoff outfit FontSite Inc. falsely claims to be "copyright owner" and "trademark owner" of the ripoff font stuff sold by Martin Kotulla in Nürnberg (Germany).

Example: "Bergamo" alias "Bemtus" alias "Bembo"

Top: The Bembo ripoff called Bergamo (ripped off by URW as Bemtus) sold by Martin Kotulla see <http://www.infinitytype.de/samp/Bergamo-Regular.htm> for Martin Kotulla's Bergamo ripoff For more details about the Megafont stuff see <http://www.sanskritweb.net/forgers/#MEGAFONT>

Bottom: The same Bembo ripoff called Bergamo sold by Sean Cavanaugh alias Fontsite ripoff outfit, see <http://www.fontsite.com/download-free-fonts/bergamo-std> for Sean Cavanaugh's Bergamo ripoff

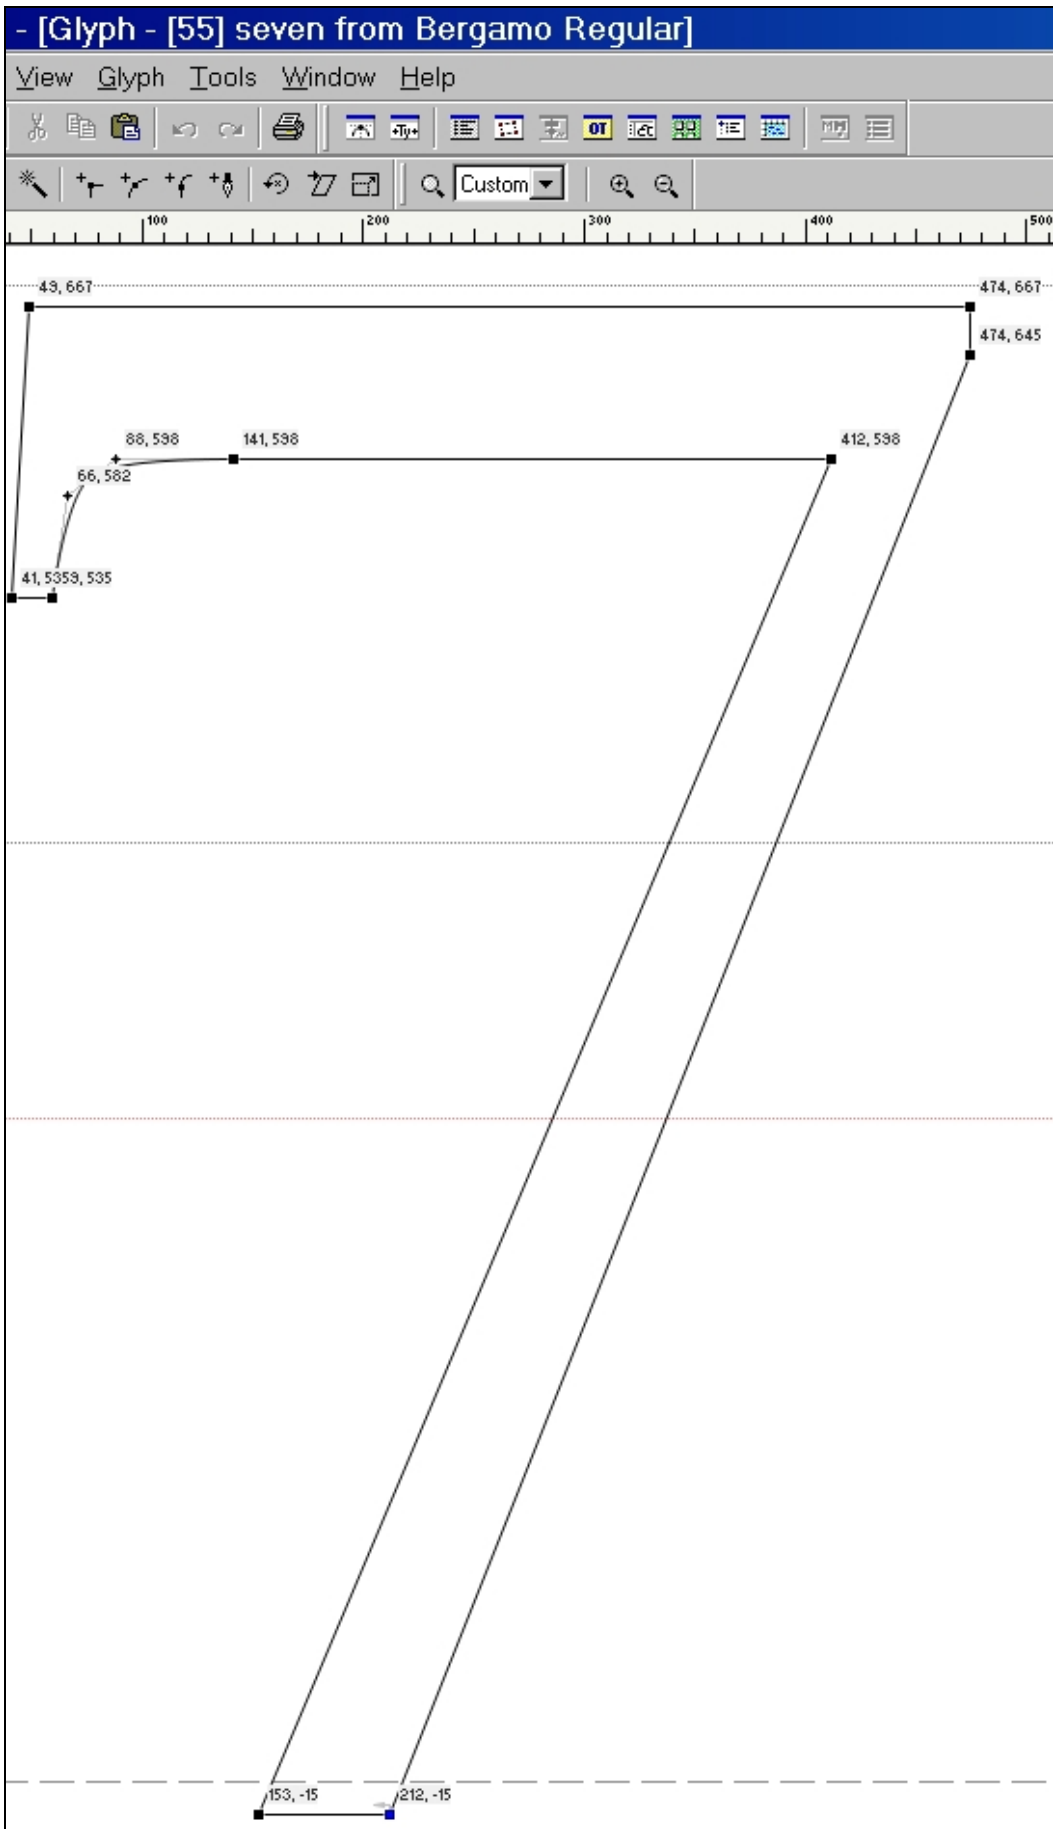

Martin Kotulla coined the name (his "trademark") Bergamo for this Bembo ripoff in 1993 ("4/16/1993").

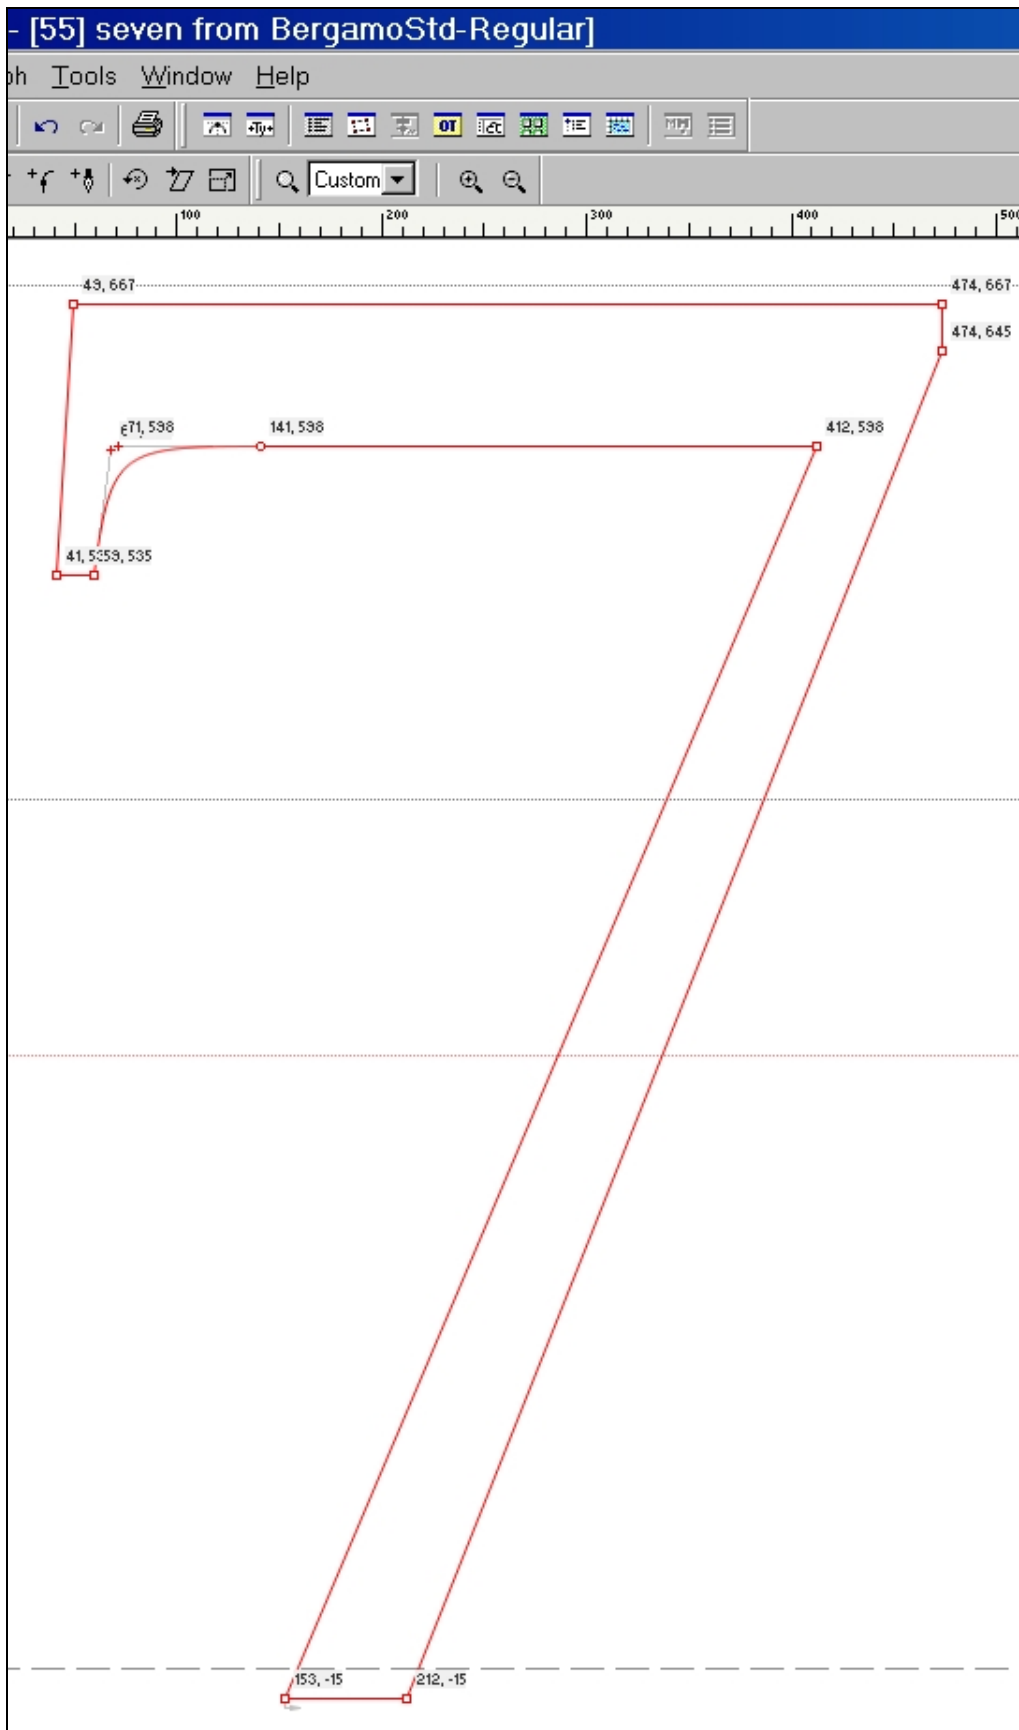

Years later, Sean Cavanaugh started selling Martin Kotulla's ripoff stuff cheating dimwitted font buyers by pretending to be the "copyright owner" of the ripped-off fonts ("Copyright by FontSite Inc.").

Font buyers are natural born dimwits and can be easily cheated. So it was easy for Cavanaugh to also make these dimwits believe his false claim that FontSite is the "owner" of the "trademark" Bergamo. ("Bergamo is a trademark of FontSite Inc.")

This is glyph "seven" of the Bergamo ripoff sold by Martin Kotulla as of 1993

This is glyph "seven" of the Bergamo ripoff sold by Sean Cavanaugh in 2008

Both fonts are glyph-identical, i.e. Sean Cavanaugh's "Bergamo" is a ripoff of Martin Kotulla's ripoff. This means the ripoff font stuff sold by Sean Cavanaugh is a ripoff of the ripoff sold by Martin Kotulla.

Via EULA, confidence trickster Sean Cavanaugh claims to be the "copyright owner" of the ripoff stuff ripped off by the FontSite ripoff outfit (see <http://www.fontsite.com/purchase-info/eula-free-fonts>).
